The 2024 annual Jones Beach air show will have many featured guests: The United States Army Golden Knights Parachute Team will make their 17th appearance, other military performers joining the lineup include the U.S. Navy F-35C Tac Demonstration Team, the U.S. Coast Guard, and the 106th Rescue Wing NY Air National Guard HC – 130 / HH 60 Demonstration Team...

Jessy Panzer, a widely-known female aerobatic pilot, is flying for the second time at Jones Beach, along with the American Air Power Museum Warbirds, Long Island's own David Windmiller and the SUNY Farmingdale State College Flying Rams, who plan to fly 22 of their college-owned aircraft...

Civilian performers on the list include the world-famous Skytypers and their flight squadron of five vintage WWII aircraft and Mike Goulian, the most decorated aerobatic pilot in North America.

Watching the Show

There are two ways that one can watch the show: from the beach or from a boat. Some have asked me if the show can be seen from other surrounding beaches, and the answer is probably yes. However, you will be nowhere near airhsow center (where all the action takes place and the acts are centered around) and you will not hear Mr. Reider's commentary. So for the best viewing experience, stay with Jones Beach itself.

For those with boats, the show can be viewed from Zach's Bay or from the ocean. However, there are restrictions as to where in the ocean the show can be watched. I was able to find these parameters for the 2005 show, and I can only assume that they will be the same for this year. And if they aren't exactly the same, the worst that can happen is the Coast Guard will yell at you and tell you to move. No biggie.

Today's Air Show show, Saturday May 29, has been cancelled. The New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation regretfully announces that the Saturday, May 29 performance of the Bethpage Air Show at Jones Beach State Park has been cancelled due to inclement weather. The decision is necessary to ensure the safety of the performers and the spectators.

Ticket holders for Saturday's performance are eligible to receive two free park passes. Ticket holders may redeem their Air Show Park Special Event Pass with the QR code at any State Park office and they will receive two free parking passes valid for entry to any New York State Park immediately.

Fans who wish to receive a refund should email their confirmation numbers with the email address they used to purchase their tickets to jonesbeach.airshow@parks.ny.gov.

There will still be a livestream of the event with footage of yesterday's flights available at WABC-TV
https://abc7ny.com/
, as well as on WABC's Connected TV Apps on Amazon Fire TV, Android TV, Apple TV, and Roku. The livestream will air Saturday, May 29, 2021.

Sunday's performance currently remains on schedule.
