Jason Aldean has announced a brand new tour, Highway Desperado, beginning in May 2024. The country music star revealed the news with a post on social media on Monday morning. With special guests Hailey Whitters, Chase Matthew, Austin Snell & Dee Jay Silver !

"HIGHWAY DESPERADO TOUR 2024 — LET'S GO!" Aldean wrote on X. Aldean released his Highway Desperado album in 2023. It's the 11th studio album of his country music career.

News of Aldean's new tour comes a few weeks after another tour announcement. Aldean and Kid Rock will headline the 2024 Rock The Country Tour, scheduled for Spring 2024. That show is scheduled for seven stops in various small southern towns.. Aldean's latest album includes hits Highway Desperado, Try That in a Small Town and Breakup Breakdown. A total 14 songs are part of the the 2023 album. Both songs appear on Aldean's 11th studio album, Highway Desperado, which was released on November 3rd via Broken Bow Records. The album features 14 total tracks, three co-written by Aldean, including the album's title track. The ACM Artist of the Decade entertainer first introduced new music from the album in May with the release of the fan-appreciation anthem, "Tough Crowd" at this year's ACM Awards, where the three-time ACM Entertainer of the Year winner was again an Entertainer of the Year nominee.
