Wild 'N Out is about to hit the road.. Nick Cannon announced NICK CANNON PRESENTS: Wild 'N Out Live Tour 2022, a live run that will bring Cannon's series across the U.S. and will mix up comedy, variety and game show elements all in one for fans of the improv/competition show on each stop. But there's more: Each night, Nick Cannon and the Wild 'N Out cast members will also invite members of the audience to join them for Wild 'N Out's most popular games. Only the wild survive...on stage!

The long-running improv comedy show will bring the gang across the country for a mix of comedy, variety and game show elements... The show is known for inviting guests and audiences to join the cast on stage in a variety of games.

The MTV program, which was created by Cannon, serves as a comedy sketch/improv game show where two teams of comedians compete against each other. The show has been running on the network since 2005 but has experienced a rocky road. Parent company ViacomCBS fired Cannon in July 2020 for anti-Semitic comments he made during a podcast earlier that year, for which he later apologized. The partnership was renewed between both parties and the show began airing again in April.

Tim McGraw's June 3rd concert had previously been announced as JB season's first show.
